8 July 12th Today we went home or to France or to various holiday posts, after three hard days of exams & cleaning up, for eleven weeks. If the present weather lasts it will be glorious.

Autumn Term 1923
Sept 27th Here we are once more! after the most lovely holidays. Ambleside seems far from pleased at our return, it rains here all the time. But they do that all the holidays practically.
Oct 2nd We had a new type of Drawingroom evening tonight.
The juniors told us, in French, what they had done in France.
Two members of each party were chosen to speak. We enjoyed it thoroughly.
Oct 4th One of the juniors, Miss King, had a bad bicycle accident on Brathay Bridge.

She broke her kneecap badly.
She was taken to the Calgarth Hospital Mr Windermere.

Oct 16th Mrs Rawesley came this afternoon & gave us such an interesting lecture,
"on the 'ways & Customs of Westmorland". She reproduced the dialect of the county wonderfully - we all enjoyed it tremendously -

Oct 27th At 8 pm the seniors did the Skit. Miss Pennington arrived in the evening to spend the week end on her way south from Scotland.

The Skit took the form of a semi-musical comedy and was given the name "Singspiel", which means "any kind of drama with music". The music of the songs was taken from the "Beggars Opera", to which special words were written.

It was a great success, causing much laughter. The skitting was not personal, being on P.N.E.U. & Scale How in general.

Jokes were collected throughout the whole year, even up to the night before. In fact one of two were new to some of the actors themselves - we were allowed to dance for half an hour afterwards.

Oct 29th Miss Pennithorne spoke to us tonight very helpfully on the subject of P.V.E.U propaganda work.

Nov 3rd This has been a record term for rain so far. The total rainfall for October was over 14 inches, & yet it is still raining even though it is half term. Where does it come from?

The seniors all went to tea with Mrs Haslam. We had such a good time & thoroughly enjoyed the lovely pictures & needlework which we saw.

Nov 5th The weather is actually kind. We had a fine day for outings. In the evening a fine dance was held in the Dragon, in the middle of which all the juniors threw paper streamers. The tunic bairdoun dance was held on the Saturday as usual. Nov 12th Today we had the existing election of the new S.M. & J.M. The juniors went into the drawing room after lunch, while the seniors waited anxiously outside. The S.M. & J.M., Miss ^{Stranberg} ~~Lyne~~ & Miss ^{Lyne} ~~Stranberg~~ were carried under an arch of clubs to their seats in the class room. [Changed at end of Term.]

Nov: 16th Mr Phillips came to examine our handicrafts which were set out in the Dragon. Mr Phillips lectured to us on Design, which we enjoyed so much. He continued this lecture on Monday 19th.

Nov: 22nd Mrs Sharpe came to see our Cadet Corps today, to the Birthday party of the Company. She went to the School Company with the Captain & then came up to College. She enrolled nearly all the juniors as cadets & then spoke to us for a little. After tea we entertained her, Miss Parish, the Staff & school Company by a scene round the Camp Fire (artificial one) The new Company Song was sung, then one of the cadets told a yarn. The Cadets then all went to sleep round the fire, & ghosts came in, representing great people who had lived up to the Spirit of the Guide Laws. Ten such characters came in & were described by the Captain & Sentry. After God Save the King the party broke up.

Nov: 27th. This evening the children came up from Fairfield, & gave us a very nice concert. The babes sang a delightful little carol so well.

Dec 1st Mr Hough came here this evening & shewed us very beautiful lantern slides of all the pictures which illustrate Miss Mason's "Saviour of the World." The lantern went specially well today, as it is now possible to work it by electricity, a plug ~~being~~ having been put in the classroom wall near the door.

Dec. 10 - 13th. The Prof's visit has been great fun. It is by no means an occasion for terror. Every set tell this to their Juniors, so why can't people believe it. On 10th the juniors acted Le Bourgeois Gentilhomme so splendidly & the dresses were wonderful.

Dec. 13th. Owing to a case ofumps in the school the children were not able to have their party today, to the great disappointment of all. They go home tomorrow.

Dec 15th The seniors had tea together at the Glen Rothay. The dance at 7.0 p.m. was too wonderful. The classroom represented the outside of a village inn, at a country fair. Six juniors danced "Old Mole" to greet us, & then we all danced. Between the dances we had our fortunes told by a gipsy woman (a junior). Miss Crawshaw provided a wonderful supper, of great excellence.

Dec 18th is the day of departure. A day too early according to previous arrangements, owing to the nuns.

Spring Term 1924

Jan. 17th We came back to Scale How to day a party of 58 - 24 Juniors are taking the entrance examination, but unfortunately there is only room for 21 to stay. We have all been fitted into the college and Fairfield, Miss Crawshaw alone knows how! The four Exes are sleeping at Dr Allen's. All the Juniors are returning as Seniors except Miss King, who is prevented by ill-health from coming back till next year. We shall all miss her very much.

Jan. 18th Miss Parish welcomed us back as Seniors and told us of her plans for the term. One very welcome plan is being that we shall have fruit for breakfast every day!!

Jan. 31st We all went to the Grasmere Play entitled "On Second Thoughts," acted in the Westmorland dialect. At first the meaning was somewhat obscure, and we missed some of the jokes, but soon the dialect became familiar to us. The
